

Hey! I'm Elle Mackay (actually pronounced 'Ellie', its weird I know!). I come from a fairly small coastal town, called North Berwick, east of Edinburgh (Scotland). I have an older sister and a younger brother, both of which I was close to growing up!

I am a 20 year-old student (will be turning 21 within the first few days of working!) just ending my second year studying psychology – don't worry, I can't read your mind and I really have no idea what you're going to do before you do - at the University of Aberdeen!

I am a pretty relaxed person who is keen to take part in probably every activity! I love being a student, love going out, love meeting new people and trying new things!

Before coming to university, back in 2014 I ventured off travelling by myself for 6 months around Thailand, the east coast of Australia, Fiji, and even dabbled a few weeks along the West coast of the US! It was such an amazing experience, and I would bombard you with loads of photos from my trip in this little bio, but I'll keep most of them for another time! I spent roughly 3 months in Thailand; attending full moon parties, swimming in waterfalls, volunteering with children, visiting temples, but mainly training to become a PADI Master Scuba Diver!

So excited for summer and meeting you all!
